

As Executive Director for the Delaware Health Information Network, I wanted to provide the richest possible benefits package to my small, hardworking staff, but also needed to keep the costs at a level that we could handle as a small not-for-profit organization. Allen Insurance Group provided exactly what we needed. Through Benefits Connection, Allen Insurance Group was able to pool our risk with other small businesses and enabled us to offer a total benefits package to our employees that exceeded my expectations. They took the time to understand our needs and offered us meaningful options and truly first class service.
